

THE 39TH ANNUAL EVVY AWARDS

MAY 29TH, 2020

ABOUT THE EVVYS

The EVVY Awards is the largest student-produced, multi-camera, live-broadcast award show in the country. Modeled after the Academy Awards and the Emmys, The EVVYs honors student work in almost every discipline of study at Emerson College.

In 1981, two students envisioned an award show that would utilize the skills taught in Emerson College classrooms for the production staff and acknowledge the hard work of Emerson students. Martie Cook and Glenn Meehan, who were a senior and a junior at the time, are credited as the creators of The EVVY Awards. They developed the idea with the assistance of Emerson Independent Video and its faculty advisor, Micki Dickoff.

Months of hard work, fundraising, and reaching out to industry professionals lead to the first EVVY Awards, which was a dinner reception ceremony, and it was held in the First and Second Church in Boston. The first show had eight departmental categories with 37 awards that were presented over the course of the evening.

The EVVY Awards took place at several different venues in its early years, including The Boston Opera House. In 1990, the show found a permanent home in the Cutler Majestic Theatre. In 1997, the EVVY Awards was first broadcast live over the internet, marking another significant achievement for the show.

Over the years, The EVVY Awards has picked up several awards of its own, including a bronze medal in 1992 and a bronze trophy in 2010 at the National Telly Awards, first place at the National Association of College Broadcasters Awards in 1993, and first place from the Association of Higher Education Cable Television Administrators in 2001. More recently, both The 31st and 33rd Annual EVVY Awards were awarded first place at the College Television Academy Awards and The 38th Annual EVVY Awards was nominated.

The EVVY Awards Gala, which was introduced during The 28th Annual EVVY Awards, honors student work in the fields of marketing, writing, digital media, print journalism, and photojournalism. Tonight's show continues to award Emersonians in the categories of film, television, audio, sound, theater, and performance. With the show now in its 39th year we have expanded to fit the needs of the growing Emerson population and technological changes. A few years ago the show began broadcasting in HD, added an LED screen and a brand new submissions system. In partnership with Media Technologies and Production, we hosted our second annual Blood Drive with Red Cross. This year, for the first time ever, the EVVY Awards shifted to be created and broadcast completely remote. While the transition was challenging, we are proud to say that not even a pandemic can stop the EVVYs from honoring student work.

If you would like to see a complete archive of past broadcasts, winners, and nominees please visit our website at www.evvyawards.org.

NOTE FROM THE PRODUCERS

To the Emerson Community:

We would like to welcome you on behalf of the entire EVVY39 team to the largest student-run, and for the first time ever, remote awards show in the country! As you scroll through our digital playbill, you will see the names of over 250 students that worked to bring the show to life. Since we are not able to be all together as we had hoped, we have also included some of the work you would have seen in the live show. Even though we are spread out across the globe, we are honored to have the EVVYs bring everyone together in spirit.

The process of creating The 39th Annual EVVY Awards began just over a year ago, but the process of re-creating The 39th Annual EVVY Awards began just a few weeks ago. Regardless, we have spent countless hours curating a show that honors the student work from this year. Everything you see on screen has been created by students, for students.

This year, we celebrate our Origins. The roadmap of our individual backgrounds is what influences the art we create today, and we are honored that you have shared your art with us. We wish we could have been in Boston to cheer for you in person, but we hope you can feel our applause in spirit.

We are excited for you to see the work of so many Emersonians, and we hope that the EVVYs is able to bring a little light into your homes during these tumultuous times. We want to congratulate our nominees as well as their friends and families, without whom we would not have a show. Thank you to our advisors, sponsors, presenters, judges, and team members who have given the show countless hours of support and dedication.

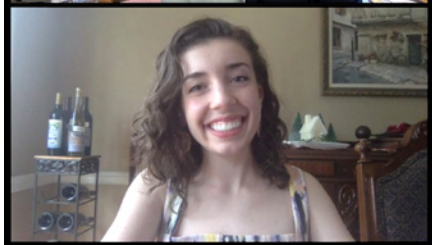

Thank you for tuning in, and enjoy the show!

MEET THE PRODUCERS

Liz Bradford (Creative Aesthetics Executive Producer)

Liz is a Senior Media Arts Production major specializing in production design at Emerson. Being the Aesthetic EP was her Emerson dream since she first heard the position existed. To her aesthetics team, Val, Johnny, Stan, Shelby, Talia, Angela, Emily, Jen, Lily, Anna, Cam, Henry, and Brett, she is forever grateful for their dedication, talent, and passion. To Tristen Pon, her amazing assistant, thank you for always being there. Liz would also like to thank Leo, for making her realise her whimsically is a balcony and not a basement, Rhegan, for setting the example on how to be a true girl boss, and Rachel, for being her rock throughout the show. She would also like to thank past aesthetic EPs Grace Leuper and Gemma Guerrazzi for setting a precedent of excellence and inspiring her. Liz would like to give a very special thank you to Max, for listening, understanding, and believing in her. Thank you to her parents and sisters for supporting her and her dream. Thank you to her friends and collaborators for making all of this worthwhile. To the students at Emerson, you are the heart and soul of these productions; without you, the EVVYs doesn't exist. Thank you and enjoy the show!

Rachel Westra

(Creative Content Executive Producer)

Rachel is Junior Visual Media Arts major, newly declared literature minor, and the Creative Content Executive Producer for the 39th Annual EVVY Awards. She has many people to thank for helping her keep this show on the road, including but not limited to her amazing content team, her wonderfully bright assistant, Ava Straccia, and her three co-EPs, Rhegan, Liz, and Leo, whose support, advice, and jokes are the reason the show is able to happen today. A thank you to the EPs before her, Maddie Hoffman and Amelia Channin, and Rachel's forever boss, KC Engle, for always being a phone call away. A special thank you to her agent and best friend on linkedin, Tony Ascenso, for the ever level headed advice and for his dedication to helping the students of Emerson College create even when we can't all be together. Rachel would like to thank her parents for allowing her the opportunity to meet so many amazingly talented and thoughtful creators through her education at Emerson College. Lastly, thank you for watching, and please enjoy EVVY39!

Rhegan Graham (Logistics Executive Producer)

Rhegan is a Junior Media Arts Production student with minors in Art History and Business Studies. The EVVYs is a huge reason she chose to attend Emerson, and being able to work on the show as a producer is such an honor. She would not have been able to lead the EVVYs team without the love of her fellow producers, Liz, Leo, and Rachel, who never failed to pick up her spirits and inspire her to keep working. She extends the biggest thank you and appreciation to the entire logistics team; there is not one person on the team that does not continue to impress her with their incredible work and passion. She'd also like to thank the EVVY37 Logistics EP, Victoria Bartkavage, whose amazing leadership and insanely powerful pantsuit inspired her to follow in her footsteps. Thank you to her parents who allow her to study and grow at Emerson, her partner, Jimmy, for being consistently supportive, and last but not least, her powerhouse of an assistant Ryan Jackson for being such an incredible teammate through this journey. Thank you for tuning in!

Leo Duch Clerci (Technical Executive Producer)

Leo is a Junior Media Arts Production major. He has worked on the EVVYs since his freshman year. To have spent his last year on the Boston campus leading a team of such dedicated, hard-working, and passionate individuals has been the greatest honor of his time at Emerson.

His gratitude goes out to everyone on the Tech Division—whose plans for the live show were cut short—for their unwavering support throughout a tumultuous year. To Emily Soubasis, thank you for being the best assistant someone could ask for. To Liz, Rhegan, and Rachel, he extends his deepest gratitude for making this EVVYs an unforgettable experience. To Liam Hutton, thank you for all your tireless work. To the Tech Producers that came before him, Mateo Solis and Emma Giuliani, thank you for being a guiding hand and a model to aspire to. To Justin Kobylt and KC Engle, thank you for teaching him the ropes when he was just a freshman. To Tony Ascenso, thank you for your guidance over these last years, the EVVYs could not happen without you. To the brothers of Phi Alpha Tau, you consistently exemplify the meaning of brotherhood. A huge thank you to his partner Belen Dumont, for being there for him at all times. And of course, thank you to his family for supporting his time at Emerson. Creating this show has been an amazing journey, so please, enjoy the broadcast!

MEET THE GALA PRODUCERS

Madison Brooks - Gala Logistics Producer

Madison Brooks is a junior Business of Creative Enterprises major and this year's Logistics Producer for the 39th Annual EVVY Awards Gala. Maddie began working with the EVVYs her freshman year as Script Coordinator for EVVY37 and was the Production Coordinator for EVVY38. The EVVYs have been an amazing opportunity for Maddie, and she really found her place at Emerson through this organization. This would not have been the same experience without such an incredible team, who worked so hard to create what would have been the best Gala yet. Special thanks to Zach and Liam for being so amazing to work with, as well as all of the wonderful friends that the EVVYs have brought her throughout the years. While EVVY39 may not have been able to happen as planned, it will forever hold a special place in Maddie's heart.

Liam Hutton - Gala Technical Producer

Liam Hutton is so thankful to have been a part of the EVVYs EP team. He loved the power trip, even though he didn't get the chance to really do his job. In all seriousness, he learned so much more than he could have imagined and he met an overwhelming amount of amazing people. He hopes to work with (but probably for) these people for the rest of his career. Leo, his boss, was pretty cool. Neat accent.

Zach Honer - Gala Content Producer

This is Zach's third and final year working on The EVVY Awards. He began as an assistant and was thrilled to be one of the Executive Producers on the EVVY39 Gala. He has been head writer for Emerson Channel's Closing Time, marketed for student theater productions, and been a member of sketch comedy troupe Jimmy Traveling All-Stars. He plans to complete his degree in marketing communications next fall at Emerson's LA campus. He hopes you enjoy the most unique EVVYs in history and wants to shout out the other EPs for their invaluable and inspiring work!

MEET YOUR HOSTS

Claire Layden

Claire Layden is a rising senior with an Acting major and a Political Science minor. She loves long walks on the beach, lighting candles after sunset, and intersectional feminism. She would like to thank her loving friends, studio, and Stroopwafel for being who they are. A major thank you as well to the entire EVVY's team for making anything work!!

Matt Barrett-Miller

Matt Barrett-Miller is thrilled to be hosting the 39th Annual EVVY Awards and he is ESPECIALLY thrilled he didn't even have to put on pants to do it! Matt would like to thank his co-hosts Claire, Arasha, and Kyle for being three of the funniest most wonderful people to work along side and also he would love to thank the ENTIRE production team and ALL the countless people who worked tirelessly to put this entire show together TWICE. Also a shout out to his comedy family: "Jimmy's Traveling All-Stars!", his birth family: Mom, Dad, and Nick, his sweet love: Corinne, and of course Matt Baynes. ENJOY THE SHOW!

MEET YOUR HOSTS

Arasha Lalani

In her senior year of high school, Arasha toured Emerson College and first heard about the EVVY Awards. Her tour guide was one of the hosts for the EVVY's Gala. She decided that day that she would one day go on to host the EVVY's. Three years later, and that goal has been met. In her time at Emerson, Arasha has designed her own major called "Television Personality and Performance," joining the Individually Designed Interdisciplinary Program. Arasha wants to thank her family, her friends, and her sisters in Alpha Epsilon Phi for the love and support that has constantly lifted her up. Her journey with this award show has begun with her announcing EVVY37 and now concluding with her hosting EVVY39. Even if it has to be virtually, the show must go on!

Kyle Goold

BFA Theatre and Performance '21. Kyle began his EVVY journey on the tech team his freshman year - completely clueless and utterly useless. Despite not knowing anything about the technical aspect, he still fell in love with all that the EVVYs were. So, that's what led him here - to hosting! He is so grateful for this unique opportunity to host a virtual awards show alongside some pretty amazing people. He would like to thank his family for always being a phone call away (and now feeding him during this quarantine), his friends who make every day at Emerson a dream, every single person working on this show for pouring their whole being into its creation, and last, but not least, Arasha, for teaching him how to work harder and be better. Enjoy the show!

Alumni Award of Distinction

This year's Alumni Award of Distinction will be presented to the Class of 2007's very own Keto Shimizu! Keto is a comic book and television writer and producer. Currently, she is the Executive Producer for DC's Legends of Tomorrow. Keto is also known for her great contributions in writing and producing for The CW's Arrowverse and her work on the North American adaptation of Being Human. At Emerson, Keto was very active in all the film and TV organizations, including the EVVY Awards. Keto oversaw the rejuvenation of NBS, taking the membership from 8 people to 80 people in a year, that same year she created the shadow program for mentoring younger students through the annual NBS narrative. Keto continues to do amazing work out in LA and is kept busy with her two young children! Thank you for all that you have done, Keto! We are honored to dedicate this year's award to you!

Student Award of Distinction

This year our Student Award of Distinction goes to Yueming (Alison) Qu, a senior Theatre BFA major graduating Spring 2020. Throughout her Emerson career, Alison has made an enormous impact on Emerson's campus through her work in the arts and in the Asian American community. She is the co-founder of CHUANG Stage, the first Mandarin Chinese Theatre Community of Emerson College producing transcultural theatre (www.chuangstage.org). By establishing this organization, Alison was able to diversify theatre at Emerson and allow more unique voices to be heard and stories to be told. Now three semesters in, and having been authorized by SGA for one, CHUANG Stage is a growing community of Asian American artists that is set to thrive at Emerson now and in the future. A passionate and energetic leader, Alison has truly distinguished herself as a student that goes above and beyond to create the change she wishes to see in the Emerson community. Congrats, Alison and thank you for sharing your talents with Emerson!

“DO WHAT I LOVE”

OPENING NUMBER LYRICS

Written & Composed by: Jensen Krall

Claire

Here you are, breathe it in, the future is an open door

Matt

So many pigeons and college students who come in hordes

Claire

Now I'm here to make my start because this town was made for me

(Matt: And also me!)

So watch as I take this school by storm 'cause
I'm about to do what I love

Claire

Do what I love

Score that reliable fine arts degree, but how 'bout you?

Matt

I haven't a clue

Claire

Just think of all of the sights that you'll get to see and in time

You're gonna find a passion to pursue until you're burning out, then bang!

You'll be in love, do what you love,
and your life will never be the same!

Claire

Here we make our introduction with the permanent construction

That increases all our migraines every day

The Theater District is our hub so take a leap and join the club

'Cause once you're in it then you're guaranteed to stay

Come and join our tight community and feel the sense of unity

Unless you're a conservative then scram!

(Emersonians: Vote for Bernie!)

Where the egos are malicious but the students are ambitious

Matt
And the dining is delicious!

Claire
No it's not, but it's what we love!

Matt
What do I love?
How did I get in this school, what's the path that I should take?
There's been a mistake
They'll see that I don't belong, then they'll kick me out of here fast

Claire
This college is vast; broaden your horizons and the world will give right back

Both
Do what you love; you'll be in love and you will discover why you came!

Claire
Here's what I love
Here at the Cutler Majestic we'll make our big debut

Matt
Just me and you
Up on this stage lookin' fresh while we wear our finest attire

Claire
Ooh, and also a choir!
(Ensemble: Ahhhh)

Both
Singing in the spotlight till the night comes to an end

Matt
We got our Film Bros in tow with all the buddies in Comm Studies
And the Theater kids with such dramatic flair
All the writers here are hip to pitch their trailblazing scripts

Kyle

“Okay, so it’s a movie musical adaptation of legally blonde the musical’s movie adaptation, but the twist is-”

Matt

And so we listen though we never really care

Both

When you join us here at school make sure you bring an extra juul
And dress like you’re a fan of 80s punk

Matt

If you’re straight I mean that’s great,
just know you’ll never get a date
Because the LGBTQ’s run the streets

All

We do what we love!
We’re self-starting entrepreneurial spirits, can’t you tell?
We’re vegan as well!
Sadly, we’re always in pain ‘cause our joints are bad, but that’s fine! See how we shine!

Matt

Working as the face of entertainment with a smile

All

Do what we love, it’s what we love and we’ll be in love until we die!

All

Do what you love! Do what you love!
No one can take that away so we’re gonna start the show!
Meet your co-hosts!
Here at the EVVY’s it’s our special night to do what we love!
To be who we love! To celebrate the longing in our hearts to change the world!
We do what we love! Do what you love
And your love will shine forevermore!

“PUBLIC RELATIONS AWARD INTRODUCTION”

A FAVORITE BIT FROM THIS YEARS WRITERS

Written by: Isabella Varney & Finn Wagstaff

INT: BIG BIG BASEMENT GYM

A wall of people clad in sunglasses and all-black attire, march onto the stage. They are the EVVYs PR team, followed by a small and shameful-looking Arasha and Kyle. One PR woman pulls out a large old-looking scroll. She begins to read.

PR WOMAN

I, Arasha Lalani, and I, Kyle Gould are sorry for the indescribable pain and confusion we've caused in the past 25 minutes of the 39th annual EVVY Awards. This includes spraying the audience with a hose of cologne--

ARASHA

It was a perfume hose actually.
A perfume hose. And it was funny because we didn't actually--

PR WOMAN

--Arasha and Kyle are so sorry for insinuating that Arasha was a member of Nirvana or that Kyle was an Underpaid and Overworked Broadway Swing Dancer in the Golden Age of Broadway in the 1920s. Isn't that right, Kyle?

KYLE

Yes.

PR WOMAN

And where are you from, Kyle?

KYLE

I don't wanna--

PR WOMAN

--Kyle, tell them where you're from.

KYLE

Cincinnati.

Another PR person steps forward, this time with an even larger scroll.

PR WOMAN 2

Arasha would also like to issue an apology to the PA she verbally, as well as physically attacked with a replica “Spike Umbrella” from the 1981 James Bond film For Your Eyes Only to get in character for her role as a secret agent.

Arasha bows her head in shame.

PR WOMAN

In conclusion, on behalf of Arasha and Kyle and the 39th annual EVVY Awards, do not sue us.

PR WOMAN 2

Alright, Arasha, Kyle, we’re done here, don’t mess anything else up while we’re gone. Be careful, you still have 30 privileged babies to give awards to.

The PR team leaves in one synchized single-file line. Arasha and Kyle watch them leave. Beat.

ARASHA

Do you think we can still do our bit where we convince the audience to commit a jewel heist on camera?

KYLE

Yes, stop spoiling it!

They begin to exit.

ARASHA

So sorry. Let’s get back to business. The next award is for Outstanding Public Relations Campaign.

KYLE

Oh, that’s funny, because we just did one.
Do you think they did that on purpose?

ARASHA

The nominees for Outstanding Public Relations Campaign are...

NOTE FROM THE DIRECTOR

The broadcast division for EVVY39 was beyond excited to work together to capture another phenomenal show filled with incredible performances, host bits, presenters, and more. This year's broadcast team focused on taking the high energy of the show we see on stage and translating it to a dynamic show on screen. To achieve this, we incorporated a new aerial shot that would give our audience a birds-eye-view of the stage, worked to extend the length of our jib camera, and brought back a motorized slider for the front of the house.

Despite the fact that this year's EVVYs will not be happening in the format that we originally envisioned, EVVY39 has still been an unforgettable experience that I will always cherish. I have been working on The EVVY Awards since I was a first year student, and I can honestly say that the show has been one of the best parts of my entire college experience. Between the invaluable lessons it taught me and the friends I made throughout it all, I'm forever grateful to what this show does, what it means to everyone around it, and what it has pushed me to do.

Thank you to my broadcast team for being so passionate, dedicated, and hard-working. Thank you to Joey for being the powerhouse you are and for sticking by my side to complete this directing dream team. Thank you Leo for being an amazing collaborator and for not only entertaining, but supporting any and every one of my ideas. Thank you to Liz, Rhegan, and Rachel for all of the work you put in to make this incredible production happen. Thank you Diana for being the absolute best mentor I could ever ask for. And thank you to every single person who worked tirelessly to make this show happen.

I love you forever, EVVY39.

- Destiny S Pineda

ROOTS AND ORIGINS

Aesthetic Concept: Roots

Roots as a design concept seeks to appear natural, inspired by the environment and its many features. Roots is not meant to be a mirror image of nature. Instead, it focuses on the patterns and textures of nature to create complex, yet connected designs. These textures are meant to invoke the sense of touch.

Content Concept: Origins

Origins explores the unique stories of the Emerson student body. The theme emphasizes inclusion of all backgrounds, showing diverse experiences, expressions, and personal growth of Emersonian artists and the EVVYs organization. The show reflects on the creator's beginnings and the past influences that manifest within their work.

DESIGN STATEMENT

Scenic Designers: John Gill & Valerie Stebbins

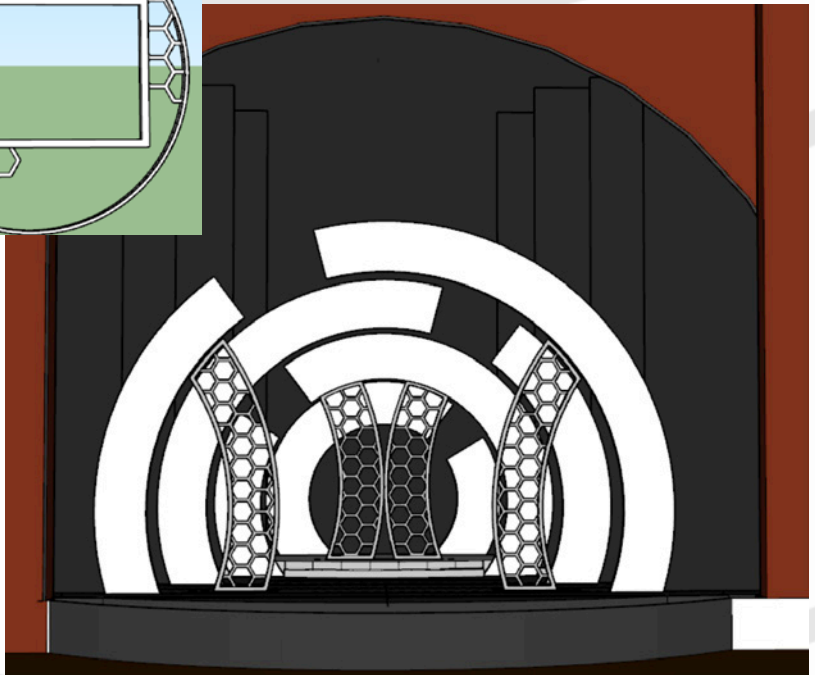

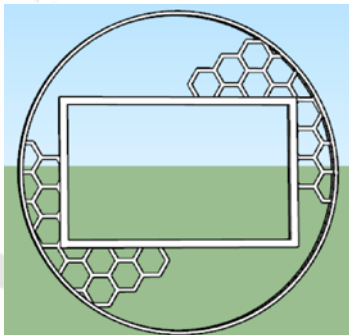

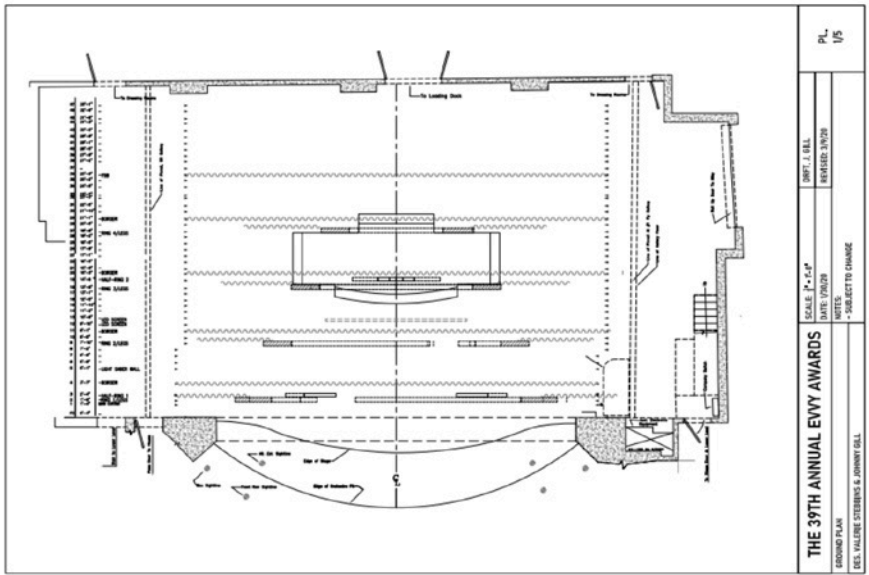

The theme of the 39th Annual EVVY Awards is Roots. The aesthetics team has been given the opportunity to create the feeling nature without directly using elements from nature on stage. The scenic design is inspired by the patterns created in nature like tree rings, honeycomb, Spider webs, etc. The symmetry within the whole set is contrasted by the curved and straight lines creating an open frame within the space.

The main element of the set is 4 giant rings that cascade down in size from downstage to upstage, these rings never leave the stage. In contrast to the 4 rings there are 2 sets of half rings with a honeycomb pattern inside that fly on and off, these rings are normally in to create a backdrop for the presenters. The frame for the LED screen comes into the center and sits in the middle of the set becoming a focal point for the people in the audience during the awards, the design for it brings together the whole set. These are the main elements for the presenters, The performances have a couple surprises. There is a beaded swag drop that comes in and resembles a spider web that has been in the rain. Lastly the most upstage piece is a StarDrop which is seen through the last ring throughout the whole show.

The design has four sets of entrances on the stage, three sets on SL and SR, the fourth entrance is upstage center. The people who have won awards will come from the audience up the stairs in front of the stage. The design is very flexible when it comes to creating different looks and lighting will be able to offer even more options. This scenic design has been seen by many different advisors like John Shafner and Luciana Stecconi.
